FEEDBACK

I am grateful for the motivation to get back into the kitchen. I used to love it but lately I haven't had motivation to do much of anything at all.

- Participant

Street Eats has made me want to get back into studying at TAFE. I'd forgotten how much I loved cooking. - Participant

Cooking with Street Eats is the most active I've seen her since she found out she had leukemia earlier this year.

- Father of participant

I loved learning how to make cheap meals that still tasted really nice. It was especially good getting to do so whilst catching up with friends during COVID-19 restrictions.

- Participant

I wasn't sure what I was going to eat tonight and then I got so excited when I remembered I'd be cooking with Street Eats.

- Participant

I cant decide if I preferred the food or the memories more, both were soooooo good.
